LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

We, the Senior Class, do will and bequeath to our most beloved faculty:

CLAUSE I

1. To our superintendent, Mr. Bynum, our love, honor, respect, and thanks for his aid in making it possible to have our high school annual.
2. To Mr. Hughes, our honored principal, the right to send hours and tardy slips to anyone and everyone.
3. To the rest of our faculty, we leave all the knowledge which they have gained from our well written examination papers.

CLAUSE II

The Senior Class as a whole wills:

1. To the unconcerned Juniors, the ability to rest easy next year since they have given us our banquet.
2. To the supposedly most brilliant class of Sophomores, the right to give as many dances next year as the Juniors gave this year.
3. To our baby brothers and sisters, the freshman class, the right to have the grace and sophistication of long pants and lipsticks.

CLAUSE III

The individual members of the Senior Class feel that, due to the fact that they possess so many fine characteristics they should leave the undignified student body these characteristics.

1. Kathryn Pullen wills her timidity to Frances Foley.
 2. Madolyn Worthy wills her place as valedictorian to Billie Swain.
 3. Wade Moss leaves his dramatic ability to Jesse Jordan.
 4. Berta Gibbs Colley leaves her temper to Jane Henderson.
 5. Our dignified president, Charles Quillian, leaves his football ability to Henry Smith.
 6. Ernest Threadgill leaves his beautiful clarinet to Auxford Sartin.
 7. Mary Henderson Black leaves her line to Clarice Davis; as long as Clarice remains in her own territory.
 8. Elton Wiggins leaves his ability to carry many subjects to Earl Pippin.
 9. Jake Fannin leaves his black curly hair to John Pointer.
 10. T. W. Franklin leaves his leadership of the school to Warren Carter.
 11. Sarah Talbot leaves her ability to write a last will and testament to the unfortunate person who is given the honor of writing it next year.
- Witness, this our hand, this day of our Lord, nineteen hundred and thirty-nine.

SARAH TALBOT, Testatrix.

CLASS HISTORY

It is almost time for the class of '39 to say goodbye to Troy High School and as the time for us to go draws nearer, we are looking back over the memories of our years in high school.

In the year of 1932, having graduated from grammar school, a group of small boys and girls, proud yet bewildered, came timidly to this stately building. Now that group of boys and girls have become dignified Seniors.

Everything was new and strange at first, but most of us finally learned to do everything from going up and down stairs to working our combination locks and arriving at class on time at the change of periods.

The first year passed and the next fall we did not have the same trials with class rooms and schedules. This year we no longer toured the world by way of the geography book, but we watched the United States grow through an American history book.

Soon we were Junior III's and were allowed to choose an elective subject. We were impressed by this because we were now visibly working toward graduation.

Three years had passed since we began high school and in '35 we were Senior I's. This year several of our boys went out for the football team and since then we have been definitely represented in all athletics. Not only in athletics, but in all phases of high school life we have had a fine representation.

The next year we were Juniors. For the first time in our school days came a realization that some day we would become Seniors and embark into the world as men and women. Much time was spent in the various ways of making money for the Junior-Senior banquet. With the hope of the whole class the banquet was an overwhelming success and the dance following will long be remembered.

When school opened this year we could hardly believe that we were at last Seniors. We were breathless with the joy of our new position, but within a few weeks we realized that being a Senior meant hard work and responsibilities. We began the year by electing Charles Quillian president of the class. During the year we backed several activities such as the Band Uniform Drive, and the buying of a mimeograph machine. Through the untiring efforts of Miss Watson and Mr. Starling we presented a Christmas Pageant and the Senior Play, with the help of the orchestra and the Glee Club. The Pageant, "A Shining Star," was a colorful spectacle, and splendidly presented. Our Senior Class Play, "The Gay Pretenders," was a big success.

This year for the first time we have student government and to T. W. Franklin went the distinction of being the first president. The second semester this high honor was won by another member of our class, William Shaver.

Many of us will seek fortunes in distant fields, others will remain to keep the home fires burning, but we will all have these recollections of good fellowship. We shall always look back on what we consider the happiest period of our lives, these six years in Troy High School.

HENRY LESLIE, Class Historian.

SENIOR CLASS PROPHECY

I listened to the radio in my car as I drove along. The program was that of the famous orchestra led by Henry Leslie. Playing in the Leslie orchestra were Leon Boatner, Ernest Threadgill, and Bubber Livingston. The blues singer for the orchestra was Mary Henderson Black. The guest artist of the night was a very famous dramatic actress, Sara Riley. She was supported in the short dramatic skit, "The Gay Pretenders," by Howard Synco. I was so interested in this superb performance that I collided with a taxi cab, which was driven by William Clower. Blackness engulfed me and during my unconsciousness I dreamed of the rest of my classmates. In my dreams I saw Faye Mullis, Ida Mae Kyzar, and Elsie McPherson playing the leading roles of the picture, "The Three Smart Girls." Wade Moss was Governor of God's Country, Georgia, and editor-in-chief of the Atlanta Journal. The Governor's wife was the former Emily Dillon. Madolyn Worthy had taken Fanny Brice's place as Baby Snooks and Lomax Stewart played Charlie McCarthy and sat on Billie Childs knee.

In my unconscious state of mind I came back to visit dear old T. H. S. Here I saw Willela Graves as head of the library with Gladys Brooks as her assistant. Chester Crabtree was teaching his favorite subject, chemistry. Lena Thomas was still cheerleader. She had stayed on to cheer J. D. to victory and to help George manage the team. I wandered from the school up to the business section of town. Joe Ashworth was manager of the Jitney Jungle with Fan Himberg as his cashier and wife. Fletcher Jones was now owner of the picture show and Jake Fannin and W. C. Smith were ushers. Elton Wiggins was owner of a big department store where Evelyn Sikes, Sabra Floyd, and Vivian Lee modeled the clothes designed by Verdie Lee Whaley. I went to the Book Store owned by Kathryn Pullen and Julia Hayes Liger who worked there showed me two of their latest books which were, "How To Catch Your Man And Hold Him," by Annie Kate Folmar and "Secrets Of Successful Marriage," by Mildred Lindsey.

I visited next the Old Maid's Home, organized by Marjorie Cox, Ethlyn Grider, and Marguerite Griffin. After leaving these girls I walked up the street and met a campaign parade. T. W. Franklin was drum major for the band and William Shaver carried a large sign reading, "Charles Quillian for President." J. W. Railey and Charles Hataway were sitting on the monument watching. Sarah Talbot was now traveling with a local jazz band. Ellen Spangler was still sitting in front of Hollan's Corner waiting for Bill to get off from work.

The married members of the class of '39 were Josephine Wilkerson, Marion Warren, and Elsie Higgins.

Suddenly I regained consciousness and knew that all I had just seen was a dream.

BERTA GIBBS COLLEY, Class Prophet.

SUCCESSFUL GRADUATE

Being a graduate is a great adventure,
Being a graduate is a wonderful thing,
Something like being a great explorer,
Who loud with praises, his joy does sing.

Being a graduate is going on a journey,
Into a country strange and new,
And we're proud to be able to go there,
Oh, we wish we could take each of you.

Our ships set sail upon the harbor of dreams,
A harbor filled with both joy and strife,
Our hearts are filled with the brightest of dreams
As we lead our ships towards the sea of life.

At last is sounded our parting song,
As we picture our memories only in our dreams,
Although we have loved these memories so long
We must now look at life through some other scheme.

We are happy as we mark our course on the charts,
For we feel that soon we shall meet with success,
If only we look at life with hopeful hearts,
And use our courage in meeting all tests.

But the journey is long and very tedious at first,
But we have hope anchored to something above—
Something which will lead us safely through life
And help us on our journey with His true love.

We sail the seas of life with calm and ease,
Although at times our faith is served with a test
We head our ship toward the rocks which lead
To the harbor of success where we shall rest.

ATHLETICS

A TRIBUTE TO THE TEAM OF '39

Left Guard—Coy Taylor: The mainstay in our line—a good defensive player. Hard worker. Much credit due him. Made All-State Team.

Center—Buck Quillian: A new-comer—a great first year player. A fine line backer. Much credit is due him. Didn't make but three bad passes.

Right Guard—William Shaver: A new-comer, hard worker—rather light for a line-man—makes it up in fight.

Right Tackle—Lomax Stewart: Largest boy on the squad—another first year man, a consistent player.

Right End—J. D. Bundrick: A good pass receiver, good blocker, fine all around boy.

Left Half—Ed Snead: The heaviest back. Great High School back. Good kicker, passer, and runner. Good defensive player. Along with others, a hearty salute.

Quarterback—David Janavich: A new boy on our squad—a fine blocker and a very hard worker—a fine boy.

Full Back—J. D. Snead: Another first-year boy who played jam-up football. Good blocker—has "never quit" attitude.

Right Half—Leon Boatner: Light, fast, much improved. Hampered by a bad knee. We'll miss him.

FOOTBALL '38

With the first call to practice early in September, it looked from the first that Troy High would have a good football team. The team, under the leadership of Coach Dildy, was built from five of last year's letter men. A full month was required for finishing out the team and then it looked as if one player was as good as the other.

The Orange and Blue drove hard from the start by whipping Auburn 13 to 7, which was the first team it played. The next game also proved to be a victory when we whipped Wetumpka 13 to 0. The following week was one of hard work for we were to meet our old rival, Andalusia. We defeated them 19 to 0. We also defeated Louisville 19 to 0 the following week. We then began our out of town games by defeating Union Springs 13 to 0. Luverne was our next victim and we defeated them 20 to 0. Our hardest game was against Eufaula, when they defeated us 34 to 0. Our next game was forfeited by Marianna 1 to 0. This put us in good shape for the game Thanksgiving when we defeated Ozark 18 to 0. This was one of the most successful seasons Troy High has ever had, and with the prospects for next year we expect even greater success.

TENNIS TEAM

In the year of 1937, Troy High had a traveling tennis team for the first time in years. The year started with a championship match which was organized by Miss Kirkland. After weeks of hard playing, the winner of the girls singles was found to be Frances "Fan" Himberg and the winner of the boys singles, Gene Murphree. To each of the winners was given a beautiful loving cup which was made possible by the hard work of each tennis member and Miss Kirkland. After completing a most successful season, each member of the tennis team was given a letter "T" for his good playing.
